The Coming Campaign and the Democracy

NO. III.

In the spring of 1852, Daniel Webster, that great American statesman and expounder of the Constitution, (then Secretary of State, arrived in the city of New York on his way from Washington to his home in Mansfield, Massachusetts. He was the guest of the Mayor and Common Council of New York City, and was welcomed in a neat speech from the Mayor at the City Hall. In response to the sentiments of welcome and honor "the God like Daniel," among other things, solemnly and impressively uttered, spoke as follows:

"I have endeavored through life to cherish one idea—that there is but one America on earth. But one free republican government on earth. And that there never was another. And if we should disregard the blessings of which we are in the enjoyment; if we should fall from our estate, depend upon it, we shall never as long as the sun shines under the heavens, behold another of equal goodness."

This language will be endorsed and appreciated by every true American, by every man who has a spark of patriotism and love of country, for it is the language of truth and soberness, and shows a just appreciation of our Union and of the consequences that would attend a destruction of that compact which has made us a truly great, prosperous, and powerful nation. At the time when Webster spoke as above, Democracy did not hold the reins of government, but in all respects the nation was prosperous, peaceful and flourishing, and the government commanded esteem at home and respect abroad. The nation had experienced a steady and healthful growth for nearly four years in everything that constitutes true national greatness, but the Democracy were not in power. In those days the farmer toiled cheerfully but for a sure reward. The manufacturer, mechanic and artisan were all full of life and activity, for no labor was in vain nor without recompense. Commerce was extended to what were hitherto sealed ports—for in those days we had a government—(there was no doubt upon that subject) and an Executive in the chair to administer the same. All classes of our citizens were smiling and happy—all branches of industry were thriving and prosperous. The mother in those days could look with proud joy into the face of her child, for it was not impossible that he should rise to the highest office in the gift of the people. The merchant and business men extended their trafic and enterprise to the future, for there was security for life, liberty and property. The sun shone with cheerful light upon a happy, prosperous and growing country—more so than it had ever been under Democratic rule. but the Democracy were not in power, and the Government was administered by Millard Fillmore, a Chief Magistrate of the Whig party—a party which Democrats had declared unfit to govern our country.

Then came the rule of the detested Pierce, during which the Missouri Compromise was repealed, in spite of the protests and remonstrances of the aged statesmen of the country. It was followed by highly increased slavery agitation, as elder statesmen had predicted, discord reigned in our Territories and this detestable President, instead of administering the Government impartially and justly, gave his influence to the extension of slavery, fanned the flame of discord, and aroused the just indignation of all except those who clung to the slave traffic as the most profitable business of the country. Then came the infamous Buchanan, following in the same wake, working for the extension of slavery, and with unblushing infamy, recommending Congress to admit the Territory of Kansas under a constitution adopted most notoriously by wholesale fraud, as was afterwards proved by Congressional committee, yet Mr Buchanan, knowing this full well, recommended its admission, because, like Pierce, he had sold himself to that party, who insisted upon carrying slavery everywhere.

In 1860 the nation was aroused against the iniquitous Democracy and their corrupt governing. A Republican of pure principles was nominated upon a just and righteous platform, and was elected to the Presidency. Then Democracy threw off its mask, and counseled, aided and abetted disunion. Before Buchanan was out of office the first gun had been fired at the national life. Democracy looked on with silent approval to a dismemberment of the Union, saying, "We have no power," they opened the gates of our national Eden, and the serpent was admitted to desecrate and spoil the land of delight.

Such is Democracy. Such is the party now clamoring for office, announcing in 1868 that they are the only party fit to govern the country. That country which they had wrecked and to save which the Republican party have had to expend such a vast amount of blood and treasure. We have seen that under Buchanan they made the astonishing discovery that "neither Congress nor the Executive had power to coerce a State." We will observe that it was a discovery of theirs, made under their model Democratic President. No other President—no other Administration—had ever made such an astonishing discovery. It was worthy the source from whence it emanated. But we must remember that this doctrine has become a Democratic doctrine, and should that party be again placed in power, they will again act upon it. Under Democracy the smallest State in the Union can defy the National Government and all the other States. They can nullify and secede at pleasure, while Democracy will fold its arms and reiterate "we have no power to coerce a State." This question of disunion is almost sure to occur again, and then God help the country if the Democracy are in power. We cannot expect them to call forth the militia, or employ the army and navy of the United States to preserve the Union. On the contrary, we may expect them again to countenance and sanction its destruction, and then, unless there is a Providence to interfere and a party to succeed them whose patriotism will spare neither blood nor treasure—then farewell to our national greatness. We may be torn into fragments, those fragments to be again divided into smaller sections until we shall behold in place of the Great Republic which has long been the admiration of the world, a multitude of petty States like those of Central and South America, where anarchy and revolution are the order of the day.

When once the American Republic of these United States becomes permanently broken up, then, in the language of Webster, "Depend upon it we shall never as long as the sun shines under the Heavens behold another of equal goodness." We cannot expect the Democracy to maintain this Union when it becomes necessary to use force in doing it, and then if the people should rise en masse and hurl them from power, an immense lot of blood and treasure will have to be expended.

Let the people remember these things. Are we prepared to make the same sacrifices again which we have already done to maintain the Union and Government? An ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure. Let us keep out of the danger by keeping the Democracy out of power. Let it be remembered that the Democracy are committed to the doctrine that the Government has no power to coerce a State—a doctrine which endorses the right of nullification and secession, and which, if not itself destroyed is sure to destroy the Union. Let it be remembered that during the war for the Union, Democracy cried unconstitutional to almost all the measures of the Government, and showed unmistakably its sympathies for traitors. Let it be remembered that during the war for the Union no Democratic organization ever announced that "we are in favor of putting down the rebellion." Let it be remembered that if Democracy had continued in power, we should now behold the nation permanently broken up, and in place of the great republic would be its insignificant and dishonored fragments.

Let us briefly examine the Democratic and Union-destroying theory that "neither Congress nor the Executive has power to coerce a State." It is now emphatically a Democratic doctrine and had Andrew Jackson been such a Democrat as Buchanan, the Union in his day would have been destroyed. This theory is false in toto. Under the Constitution the President is required to take a solemn oath "to faithfully execute the office of President" and to the best of his ability to "preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States." The Constitution enjoins it upon him to "take care that the laws be faithfully executed." The Constitution of the United States has [illegible] were extended over every State and Territory of the Union, and the President is the Executive of the nation sworn to faithfully perform his duties and to defend preserve and protect the Constitution. He cannot fail to execute the laws and maintain the powers of the general government in any section of the country without violating the Constitution and falsifying his oath. He becomes a perjurer the moment he neglects to maintain the powers of the Constitution and see that the laws be faithfully executed. And this Constitution carries its powers over every section of the Union. To say that the government has no power to coerce a State in rebellion to that Government, is about as sensible as denying the laws of gravity or any other self evident truth. It is purely a Democratic invention, worthy of its origin.

The Democracy were unable to stand a defeat at the ballot box without recourse to rebellion and civil war. Some of their journals now are indulging in threats and menaces of a fiendish character unless they are restored to power. "The ballot or bullet" was the motto of an ex Confederate Colonel in the Umatilla Press not long since. The Old Guard of New York says "the Republican party must be put down if all their leaders have to be sent seething down the brimstone track of Abraham Lincoln." Such is Democracy! The La Crosse Democrat, edited by Brute Pomeroy, teems with evil communications, wicked intents, and a hellish slang that is disgraceful to civilization. This low-lived brutal editor—lost to all the finer instincts that grace human nature—counseled in his vile sheet the assassination of President Lincoln and is an accessory to his death. This brute in the form of man has lauded his assassin to the skies and continues to sound his praise in prose and verse. With the brazen effrontery of an incarnate fiend he is still counseling, aiding and abetting the highest crime known in the calendar—manufacturing wholesale slander, vituperation and abuse of every honorable man in the Government—and Democrats all over the country are making him rich by subscribing almost en masse for his filthy sheet, which they eagerly read and chuckle with delight over its moral killing and obscene paragraphs.

Democracy would do well to remember the lessons of history and take heed to themselves how they counsel crime. The assassination of another public man in this nation is apt to be fearfully avenged. The assassination of Cæsar by the mistaken Brutus and his accomplices was done for the safety of the Roman Republic, but it was the very thing that destroyed the Republic. While history exonerates Cæsar from any intent to usurp kingly powers, it shows that his death was avenged till the last of his enemies was swept away, and the civil war that followed his murder was succeeded by a monarchy. It was the mistaken Brutus and his fellow assassins that killed the Republic when they struck at Cæsar. The assassination of Marat during the reign of terror in France, when radical Democracy had full sway, is another instance of the folly of such a crime. Although he was a tyrant, his murder roused a thousand tyrants in his place who avenged his death and carried out his policy and measures more bitterly than he would have done. Democracy had better cease to counsel murder and crime. It will only result in their deeper damnation. For as sure as there is an omnipotent God, who is no respecter of persons—who never recognized color or complexion as a claim upon his favor—who hath sworn by himself and will not repent—just so sure the principles of right, of truth and justice, which are according to His word will and must prevail, in spite of the rage of heathen Democracy, and in spite of their vain imaginings.

When Mr. Lincoln was called upon to administer the Government in 1861, the outline of the Union was already destroyed, and its harmonious coloring was fading away. The traitors commenced and waged a mighty war for the destruction of the Union and subversion of the Government. Lincoln nobly fulfilled the obligations of his office in employing all the powers of Government to save the nation, and with the undivided support of the Republican party, and some individual Democrats who had too much conscience to uphold treason and too much patriotism to assist in destroying the nation, the Union was saved and rebellion was put down. Those individual Democrats who came up to the help of the country its hour of peril, are entitled to thanks and gratitude, and so long as they regard the nation's interest and the duties of patriotism, they cannot again unite themselves with the traitorous Democracy.

After the rebellion had been conquered and peace with its bright sun was gladdening the land a gang of cut throats, with Democratic instincts, that had been educated to crime by the teachings of such Democrats as Brute Pomeroy, of La Crosse, and the villainous Bur of the Old Guard, assassinated the noble Lincoln, struck at the life of Secretary Seward (then sick in his bed), and were only prevented by providential circumstances from murdering Grant, Stanton and others. And such is Democracy. But like every other case of the kind, this murder of a first magistrate brought no good to the party who had been counseling the crime. The policy and measures of Mr. Lincoln being based upon truth and justice will surely prevail. His enemies have only shrined him in a more deathless fame. Nations have already done him reverence; the painter's and sculptor's art will do him honor, and his virtues and merit, will live as long as history and bronze and marble endure. The Republican party have saved the country from disunion. They have erased the blot of slavery from our fair escutcheon, and now before their work is done—before their mission is accomplished Democracy will make prodigious efforts to displace them from power in order that they may undo the good that has been accomplished. They say the reconstruction laws are outside the Constitution, and therefore are unconstitutional. So was the purchase of Louisiana by Jefferson outside the Constitution. So was the purchase of Florida by Monroe. But who ever heard a Democrat say that those measures were unconstitutional? In all cases where legislation is necessary, and the case is not clearly provided for in the Constitution, the Government ought to have the benefit of the doubt. But the Democracy will cry "unconstitutional" to all legislation as long as they are not in power.

The preservation of the Union and the maintainance and perfection of the Government demand that the Republican party should be kept in power for at least another four years. Had the Democracy been in power the past six years, our Union would have been hopelessly destroyed. Should they succeed to power now anarchy would prevail—traitors would sit in high places in the Government. The Southern bludgeon, pistol and knife would take the place of argument in Congress—there would be no check to treason, and secession would doubtless rear again its gory head.

Fellow citizens of Oregon, in less than one month you will be called upon to elect a Representative to Congress, and fill a number of offices of trust in your State. As your State goes in June so it will be likely to go in November. The Electoral vote of Oregon may decide the question of who shall be President. If a Republican is elected all will be well—we shall rise rapidly and securely from all national embarrassments, until we shall be in prosperity and honor second to no power on earth. If you are the means of elevating the Democracy to power, and anarchy and strife again occur, as is most likely to be the case then you are responsible. Then to you who voted for them, it may be truly said:

"For thee the soldier bleeds—for thee the matron mourns—
And wasteful war with all its fury burns.

MENTOR.

The Army in the South

The following paragraphs are from an article in a recent number of the Army and Navy Journal. The candid and temperate statements which are here made deserves consideration.

But it was not only or chiefly the enforcement of obedience to the laws which called the Army to the South. It was the necessity of preserving order and insuring the security of society. That there was such necessity was proved by the unimpeachable testimony of very many [illegible] of the soundest judgment, of the purest integrity, and without political bias, or else representing all parties. If their testimony is impugned as false, of course there is an end to the argument with persons who choose to take that view—with such we have no discussion. And the great fact is, that the protection thus proved to be necessary was designed for all classes at the South—for the freedmen in some localities, for whites in others. It was designed to prevent a civil war, perhaps a negro insurrection; to make life and property safe. We did not put the Army there for the sake of the blacks, nor for the sake of the whites, nor for the sake of the South in general, but for the sake of the Union, which would have been disgraced by allowing a series of brawls and riots to go on there for want of proper authority to subdue them.

This point, probably will, by all but intense partisans, be conceded. But it will be asked whether the South is not quiet now. We reply that it is. It is as quiet as two wrestlers who have been pulled off from each other and are held off by a stronger force. The order and law prevailing in the South are a testimony not to the uselessness but to the efficiency of the Army, and this is just the point which people who give way to the natural and ordinarily just desire to be free from military control fail to see. And, in conclusion, if it be demanded how long the South should continue under military control we answer freely, not one day after such civil governments shall take their place as shall be recognized by the General Government at Washington. If this requires ten days, then ten days is the time the Army ought to stay there; or if ten years, then the military control should last ten years. We do not propose to express an opinion whether the view taken by Congress of the condition of the Southern States is or is not the true one. It is enough to say that, whatever the political complexion of any Congress, until governments exist at the South which the national laws recognize as valid, to take away the military authority is to take away all lawful authority, and to expose the South to the possibility of chaos. The political question must first be settled, and then the Army withdrawn. It is an experiment as rash as it is trifling to pull away a man here and a [illegible] there at the South, in order to save his pay for a few weeks, and then watch to see if there is a riot. When civil authority is restored to the South, take all the troops away; but [illegible] Southern [illegible] while as a basis for the quantity of [illegible] required, are mere waste of time and [illegible]

"The Irish Vote."

Under this caption the Irish People, an influential paper published in New York city, gives the following article. All the better class of Irish American journals support the Union party, and we reproduce this article as an indication of the general tone and sentiment:

The grand contest for political supremacy has commenced in earnest—the campaign for the Presidency of the United States for the next four years has been fairly inaugurated. In New Hampshire the first battle has been fought, and, after a severe struggle, victory has been declared on the Radical side. While the guns of the victors were proclaiming the glad tidings to friends and sympathisers, important conventions were being held in the two leading States of the Union—conventions called together for the purpose of appointing delegates who shall have the power of nominating candidates for the highest [illegible] in the gift of the people.

At this early stage of the campaign we [illegible] to call the earnest attention of our country[illegible] to the action of these conventions, or, rather, to the "declaration of principles" or "resolutions" adopted by each, and which should, in a measure, foreshadow their [illegible] policies in the [illegible].

The "declaration" of the Democrats [illegible] at Albany is brief, though comprehensive, as regards the views of that party in the domestic affairs of the country. On the questions of Reconstruction, Finance and Taxation, the [illegible] sions are clear, explicit and determined. In truth, nothing more could be desired by the followers who take an interest in these matters [illegible]. But something more was expected by the [illegible] born, and especially the Irish born, voters of the State. It was expected that a strong clause would be inserted in favor of the rights of naturalized citizens—aye, and that some [illegible] expressions would be put forth proclaiming sympathy, if not actual support, for the struggling nations of the old land. No such clause appeared. The rights of naturalized Am[illegible] and the cause of struggling humanity were entirely ignored by the leaders of the Democratic party in the State of New York. Mark this, [illegible] countrymen. Sachems of old Tammany, we tell you plainly and squarely that, if we can help it, the English oligarchy shall no longer [illegible] manipulate, however [illegible] and [illegible] the Irish Nation in Am[illegible], working it both against the freedom of Ireland and against the advancement of popular sovereignty in Europe through this corrupt agency, prostituting the [illegible] of Democracy to serve the ends of foreign despots in combatting democratic progress [illegible] their downtrodden serfs in the old world. The bankers and Plutocrats of Europe are notoriously the [illegible] of Christendom and her kings at the present time. That they shall not be the rulers of America also, we shall spare no effort of ours in order to [illegible] the Democratic fleece from off the backs of any monarchical or oligarchical wolves who may be striving to effect an entrance into the [illegible] fold in this republic.

The Republicans of Pennsylvania assembled in Philadelphia at the same time and for the same purpose. At this convention a series of resolutions were passed, embodying the principles of the party, and advocating the nomination of a distinguished soldier as candidate for the Presidency. But, whether more [illegible] or more wise than the Democracy of New York, the Republicans [illegible] ed the following resolution in their platform:

Resolved, That every American citizen, whether by birth or adoption, is entitled to the protection of the nation and its flag, and while it is incumbent on the Government to initiate negotiations for the establishment of international law, expatriation, [illegible] by one nation as terminating the all[illegible] due to another, and conferring all rights of citizenship, it is no less its duty to vindicate its people of all classes from oppression or interference at home and abroad when in the legitimate and peaceful [illegible] of legal and personal rights.

Now, although this resolution is not as [illegible] as we may desire, it shows, at least, that the party who put it forth are mindful of the rights of the naturalized citizens; it shows that, while the Democracy of New York totally ignore the [illegible] of a great political power—a power that has [illegible] materially in placing them in the position they hold to-day—though they may not falter one inch in their domestic programme, they are prepared to go to almost any extremes in their foreign policy for the purpose of securing the Irish vote.

We would warn the Democracy of America in time. The leaders must not rest under the belief that because our people have heretofore followed them a most blindly, that they will continue to do so through neglect and insult. The politicians with Irish names, who profess to speak in behalf of our race, care no more for Ireland than they do for Italy or France, and not half as much as they do for Rome. The real Irish Nation of America will no longer be gulled by them and their fellow wire pullers. We want the friends of Ireland to come out boldly in favor of those who favor Irish nationality, and we here declare that, so far as in our power lies, we will work heaven and earth in opposing those who do not, by word and act, advance our cause.

Let it be distinctly understood that we are not influenced in these remarks by any proffers of assistance from Radical Congressmen. We have no intention whatever of moving the Irish People to Chicago, nor have we any paid agents in Washington or elsewhere negotiating for us. We are independent of all politicians, as our people support us liberally in our honest efforts for the [illegible] of Ireland. We are determined that we will watch carefully and see that the blood hounds that have heretofore fattened on the votes of our people shall no longer pass without exposure in their unprincipled career. We will not drop this subject here.

A Democrat being told that Thomas Jefferson and George Washington voted with negroes and believed in equal suffrage, retorted: "Well Washington and Jefferson were gentlemen and could afford to vote with niggers, I can't."—Detroit Post

Pendleton Unknown

The New York World thinks it at least has the presumption to say that nobody has ever proposed to have the Government cancel the bonds pledged by the banks for their circulation, and compensate the banks by paying them an equal amount of greenbacks. This is another illustration of the difference which exists between the Eastern and Western Democrats on financial matters. For a year the latter have been clamoring incessantly for a withdrawal of the circulation of the banks and the payment in greenbacks of the bonds deposited by them as security for their circulation. This is one of the grand features of the Pendleton policy, and is thus set forth by Pendleton himself:

> Three hundred and thirty-eight millions of these bonds, are, by the report of the Secretary of the Treasury, deposited to day as security in the vaults of the Treasury. Three hundred millions of bank paper is issued on the faith of these bonds. Now I maintain that this circulation ought to be called in; that these bonds ought to be paid with legal tenders, which will take the place of that bank circulation.

Though the matter has been thus explicitly stated by the champion of the Western Democrats and [illegible] aided by all the organs of that party [illegible] of Pennsylvania, the New York World, the leading organ of the Eastern or bond-holding wing of the party has never heard that such a proposition has been made. This is rather severe on Pendleton. The Eastern "Democracy" know no such man, and have never heard of the brilliant financial policy which he has proposed.

Pendleton further says that the object in cancelling with greenbacks the bonds held by the banks, is to save the interest which the Government now pays on the bonds which the banks have deposited. But why are there particular bonds to be redeemed with greenbacks rather than any others? No additional interest is paid on the bonds by reason of their being deposited as security for the bank circulation. If the bonds were in their owners' hands instead of on deposit at Washington, the [illegible] paid would be exactly the same. The "Democratic" stump financiers, from Pendleton down to Abbott of the Albany Democrat, have talked of this matter as if it was a simple process of prohibiting the circulation of the banks, and of handing [illegible] greenbacks for their bonds. But when a law shall be passed withdrawing from the banks the privilege of [illegible] they will put out their notes at the [illegible] and receive back their bonds. These will be subject only to the [illegible] of [illegible] can be no discrimination. The national bank currency may be withdrawn from circulation, but the idea of redeeming in greenbacks the particular class of bonds on which this circulation is based, on the ground of saving interest, is all moonshine. The [illegible] are on an equality with all others, and must be treated in the same way. If [illegible] to be cancelled by an equal amount of greenbacks, the entire sixteen hundred millions of five-twenties must be cancelled at the [illegible] by the same method. The whole of this Pendleton-Democratic financial scheme is quite as shallow as this idea of substituting greenbacks for the bonds deposited by the [illegible]. It is so shallow and contemptible that the Eastern Democrats ignore [illegible] never to have heard of [illegible]. The indications are that there will be anything but a harmonious time in their National Convention over the financial question.

[illegible] of a Professed Patriot.

We cannot afford to give much space to Beriah's "personal explanations" or to replies to them. Having fairly roasted him self on his tripod after his return from California, he falls to talking about himself with his usual gusto, and in the course of his remarks informs all whom it may concern that "not a sentence was ever uttered by him in favor of [illegible], an act committed or a [illegible] entertained which was not in strict fidelity to the Union, the Constitution and the laws." Let this statement be read and judged in the light of the following extracts which we take from the paper he published in 1864. We give them without further comment:

[From the San F[illegible] Press, March 18.]

We [illegible] those with all that is noble in the character of the [illegible] (rebels). We hold them as neither criminal nor traitor.

[From the P[illegible] March 19.]

"Crush out the rebels! For what? Only [illegible] they are rebels? Then go and demolish Bunker Hill, expunge the names of Washington and his compatriots from the roll of fame.

[From the Press, March 21.]

We now see the strange anomaly in popular [illegible] the attempt made by military force to [illegible] one-third of the electors and proscribe [illegible] third for non-conformity to party tests.

[From the Press, passim.]

The Federal Government has no constitutional power to [illegible], invade, or meddle with the domestic institutions of a sovereign State.

We are opposed to the war and the policy of the war. Everywhere and under all circumstances we have protested against the war and the purpose for which it is prosecuted.

The pretence that Jeff Davis is seeking the overthrow of our Government is only made by the Abolitionists as an excuse for overthrowing it themselves. He has not assailed a single principle of our Constitution.

The right of self-government has not been assailed, nor the Constitution impaired by the dismemberment of our territories.

Old Abbott, of the Albany Democrat, informs the enlightened Confederates of the "Forks" that the national debt "amounts to thirty thousand millions!" No doubt they believe him. Not one in ten of them could tell the difference between this sum and twenty-five hundred millions, the actual amount of the debt. We have no idea that the [illegible] editor himself could tell. But let him go to the "nigger" barber, if there is one in Albany, and he can get this and divers other matters of information interesting to intelligent Democrats, figured out in no time.

The New York World has printed for distribution one million copies of Seymour's late speech on finances. It is circulated by Democratic politicians and committees in opposition to the doctrines of Pendleton.

Gov. Woods' Speech.

IMMENSE MEETING AT ORO FINO HALL—GREAT SPEECH BY GOV. WOODS TO AN ENTHUSIASTIC AUDIENCE.

The announcement that Gov. Woods would speak last evening brought out a very large audience at Oro Fino Hall. Long before the arrival of the speaker the Hall was filled. All the available space was occupied by men and women anxious to hear the Governor speak. Oro Fino Hall never had a larger audience. In the opening the speaker alluded to his recent visit to the East, where he had [illegible] to make the people acquainted with the existence of Oregon, its people, its prospects and its coming greatness. After some preliminary remarks of this kind, the Governor fairly opened his speech on political topics. He reviewed the history, measures and tendencies of the two parties, showing up Democracy in its true colors and vindicating the party which has preserved our nationality. The speech was eloquent and argumentative and was well sustained to the end. The crowd testified their appreciation of the Governor's effort in the most hearty manner. A more enthusiastic audience has rarely if ever been assembled in Portland. We cannot pretend to do justice to the excellence of the speech in the time allotted us to speak of it. We can only add that it did great service to the Union cause in this city. At the close of the address three cheers were given for Logan, three for General Grant as our next President, and three for Governor Woods, the audience rising en masse and waking the echoes with their jubilant shouts. The Union men of Portland can always do an immense thing when they try, and such meetings as this will doubtless serve as a premonition to their opponents that something is likely to happen here in June which will ruffle the "Democratic" mind.

When President Johnson started on his career of treachery towards the party by which he was elected, he appeared to have vividly before him the parallel cases of Tyler and Fillmore. In some of his public addresses he alluded to the fate of those of his predecessors as furnishing warnings as to the willingness of Democrats to applaud treachery so long as they found it profitable and to desert the deceiver when he could not be made further available. He evidently saw the right, but had not sufficient steadiness to pursue it. He was not long in becoming the thing he stoutly professed he despised. He took a course which operated to reinvigorate the spirit of revolt in the Southern States and to beget hopes that reconstruction would ultimately be accomplished on conditions which would be a virtual endorsement of the rightfulness of the rebellion, and the rebels and "Democrats" crowded about him, defending his wildest excesses, approving his most high handed measures and urging him forward to the commission of new and more flagrant outrages upon his honorable pledges.

> They charge the Democratic party with the responsibility of the war but never specify a single official act of the party which tended in the least degree to that result.—Herald.

At a moderate computation this statement has appeared one hundred times in the "organ" during the last two years. No doubt every printer in the office keeps it "standing" ready for daily use. Within the last three months we have published columns upon columns of matter drawn from the "official" records of the "Democratic" party, showing not only that that party is responsible for the war, but also that it caused the war to be greatly prolonged. In the face of the fact that everybody knows as well as the "organ" itself, that it is repeating feeble falsehoods, it continues from day to day to make the statement above quoted. We have "specified" an almost countless number of the "official acts" of the party which disprove it. But it is not really necessary to specify a single one. The people know and remember the facts.

Ben Hayden, the great tumble bug of the Oregon Democracy, has, it is said, gone east of the mountains on a stumping tour. Ben donned a clean outfit just before the Democratic State Convention last March; but we are informed by some who saw and heard him here last Saturday night that the linen which shone so beautifully in the Democratic Convention is becoming slightly the worse for its two months' wear.

DETAILS OF OREGON NEWS

[From the Jacksonville Sentinel, May 2d.]

On Monday of last week a Swede, named John Carter, met with a terrible accident that resulted in the loss of his life. He was going into the house of Mr. Saxton, between "Jump-Off Joe" and Grave creeks, and carelessly attempting to draw his rifle through the railing of the porch the piece was discharged—the whole charge passing through the upper arm, shattering the bone and severing the main artery. The injured limb was amputated by Dr. Grube of this place, but after a week of suffering, the unfortunate man died at 11 o'clock, on Monday, the 27th ult.

There stands in the marble yard at Ashland, a shaft of Southern Oregon marble, quarried from a vein at Williamsburg, that surpasses in beauty and finish anything we have seen on the coast. The grain of the block is very fine, streaked with veins of black and dark gray, and its polish is exquisite. The column is intended to mark the last resting place of an honored citizen,—John S. Love,—who has gone before us to the unknown shore; and it is none too good for him, beautiful as it is.

O. Jacobs, Esq., was to speak at Roseburg and Oakland in behalf of the Union ticket this week. He reports the greatest enthusiasm among the Union men of that county, and a certainty of their majority in '66 being considerably increased. Mr. Jacobs is expected home to-morrow.

We paid a visit to Ashland this week, and find that it has out grown any place in the county during the past year. It now numbers two stores, a flouring mill, a woolen mill, which will be in running order this fall, two saw mills, a blacksmith shop, a cabinet maker's shop, marble tomb stone works, and a nursery for growing young fruit trees. The village is pleasantly located on a small stream of the same name, which supplies abundant water power for all the machinery that is used. Before long, if the place improves as it bids fair to do now, it will rival towns of more pretensions.

The work lately done by the Occidental was an experiment on the part of those owning the rock. It has proved satisfactory, leaving a good profit, after paying expenses of quarrying and crushing, and the mill will resume work as soon as sufficient rock can be got out to commence on. The Occidental Mill may now be regarded as a permanent institution, that will bring considerable wealth from our undeveloped ledges. Success to it.

[From the Blue Mountain Times, May 2.]

We learn from J. R. Wilkinson of this city, who returned on Wednesday last from the upper country, that the body of a man was found just as he and two or three companions were coming through Powder river valley. The body was found about one fourth of a mile from King's bridge over the main Powder river and partially concealed in the willows near the river bank, and about two hundred yards from the main traveled road. The discovering party made no examination of the body, but immediately sent for the proper officers of Baker county, to take charge of it. The result of their investigation we shall probably know next week. Mr. Wilkinson describes the man as having been about thirty five years of age, rather tall and had sandy hair and whiskers, was dressed in a brown coat and brown pants, gray shirt and had a light felt hat under his head. One boot was pulled off and lay beside him. The body was in an advanced state of decomposition, and had probably lain for some months.

Union County Democratic nominations.—Senator, Jas. Henderson; Representative, Henry Rinehart; Joint Representative, (Union and Baker), D. R. Benson; Sheriff, A. C. Craig; Clerk, F. S. McComas; Treasurer, J. L. Morrow; School Superintendent, Terry Tuttle; County Surveyor, J. L. Curtis; County Commissioners, John McDowell, S. Cates; Coroner, G. W. Webb.

A Union county Democrat in a recent speech, attempting to appear eloquent and pathetic, exclaimed: "Men of Forest Cove? If you would see the damnable fruits of the late war which was inaugurated by the Radicals, look at your wives and orphan children."

BUSINESS MATTERS AT WALLULA.—A correspondent of the Walla Walla Statesman sends the following items from Wallula, April 29th:

Flour and grain are still coming down from the valley, but in smaller quantities, owing to the fact that farmers are busy with their crops, and a great many teams are now carrying freight to the mines. There is still large quantities of flour to come down. Over eleven hundred tons of flour and grain passed down the river from Wallula during the last thirty days. Nearly all the pack trains which were camped around Wallula, (and their name was legion) have loaded and left for western Montana. The steamers Owyhee and Tenino are making regular trips from Celilo to Wallula, the Tenino going once a week to Lewiston. Quite a lot of Chinamen and their freight is coming up, bound for different mining camps in the north and east of Wallula. Whitman's pack train left Wallula, the 22d inst., for Warren's diggings, with an assorted cargo of merchandise. Warren's ... are looming up. Railroad talk is all the go here and along the Columbia river clear to Portland. Our opposition stage line, Ling Bros., have withdrawn and gone to Cheyenne City, leaving J. F. Abbott alone in his glory. Fred Readle's train came into Wallula direct from Helena, on the 22d inst., and reports the trains that left here, strong along the road all the way ... miles beyond Pen d'Oreille Lake, to within ... miles of Wallula. Mr. Readel reports no snow at ..., M. T.; none on the Rocky Mountains, and the grass good .....Snake river has fallen considerable. The ... had hard work to get to Lewiston; the last trip a smaller boat is needed. The Columbia is also falling, and we will not have our usual amount of water ... "Halo snow mitlite copa mountain."

Columbia County Union Convention

The delegates from the several precincts met in convention at the court house in St. Helens on Saturday, May 2d, 1868, for the purpose of nominating a county ticket for the ensuing election.

On motion, J. L. Ladd was elected Chairman, and T. J. Kinder, Secretary. Col. J. D. Near was appointed teller.

After discussing some minor matters, the convention proceeded to ballot for candidates, with the following result:

J. L. Ladd, Joint Representative.

Upon motion, it was determined to select the candidates for county officers from the body of the county, irrespective of party, and that the ticket shall be known as the People's Ticket. Upon the first ballot for each—

George Knox was nominated for County Clerk.

J. H. Swager, Sheriff.

Joseph Copeland, Treasurer.

E. W. Congers, Assessor.

W. H. Hoxer, School Superintendent.

J. E. Gilbreath, Coroner.

On motion, the nominations were declared unanimous.

B. M. Watts, Dean Blanchard and L. W. Congers were elected a County Central Committee.

B. M. Watts, Dr. McBride and G. A. Ladd were selected as delegates to attend the joint convention to be held at Astoria on May 9th next.

On motion, it was ordered that the Secretary furnish a copy of these proceedings each to the OREGONIAN, Herald and Unionist, for publication.

J. L. LADD, Ch'n.

T. J. KINDER, Sec'y.

Gen. McClernand's antipathy to Grant is explained by the circumstance that in the camp before Vicksburg a number of the Generals were amusing themselves by guessing the ages of one another of the officers. General McClernand's age was under discussion. Some guessed that he was fifty years of age. "Oh! no," said Grant, "such a man as that was never got up in fifty years."

WILLIAM KOEHLER,

DENTIST.

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE—Southwest corner Front and Yamhill Streets, opposite E. J. Northrup & Co.'s Hardware Store.

I am now making, amongst numerous other styles of ARTIFICIAL TEETH, the improved Vulcanite Plates of Dr. G. W. Cool's Patent, patented Dec 3, 186 , the improvement of which consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold. It not only makes the plate double as strong and cleanlier than the common Vulcanite Plate. It also can by it be made considerably thinner and lighter, whereas the price is but little above that for common plates. Call and see specimens.

N. B.—Dentists wishing to secure the office right for Dr. G. W. Cool's Improved Vulcanite Plates can have it made out to them by applying to this office.

N. B.—To strangers I would say, that a constantly increasing Dental Practice for the last five years in this city, will be a sufficient guarantee for them to receive a First Class and Finished Piece of Work. Numerous testimonials to the same can be given at the office.

A THRILLING INCIDENT

In the mission life of Mrs. Ingalls, in Burmah, is well told in the "Baptist Messenger," relating how she was sent for to visit one of the Budhist high priests, who had been nearly killed, and how, while in the most holy place in their temple, where none but the priests had ever before been admitted, she was permitted unrebuked to use for him the sacred vessels which none but the high priest dare touch, and to even overturn and sit on one of their gods to rest; all through the magic influence of the Pain Killer, called by them the "God medicine," so successfully had she used it in curing their many diseases, some of them considered heretofore fatal in that climate, among which were cholera, liver complaint, dyspepsia, the bites of venomous reptiles, &c. This speaks volumes for the Pain Killer.—London Times.

Rev. J. E. Clough, Missionary at Ongole, Southern India, writes:—"We esteem your Pain Killer very highly for scorpion stings, cholera, &c., and cannot very well get along without it."

Rev. I. D. Colburn, Missionary at Tavoy, Burmah, writes, "I shall be happy to assist in extending a knowledge of a remedy so speedy and effectual." m1dawlm

Are you aware that the Premonitories of Consumption are Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Pains in the Side and Chest, Difficulties of Breathing, &c. If you permit these symptoms to run on, tubercles will be the result, and end in Consumption. Now, if you want to cure these diseases, use ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM without delay. Consumption should never give it up! and think there is no hope! until they have tried ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!! It has cured many cases that physicians pronounced incurable.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!

A Pure and Powerful Tonic,

Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.

Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water; Invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels;

Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it ... the ... influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

G. VENARD,

CHARTRES COFFEE!

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.

STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES ...

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

The Confederate Bonds.

THEIR SECRET HISTORY

Edwin DeLeon, formerly a rebel agent in Europe, is writing a series of papers on the defunct Confederacy for the New York Citizen. His last contribution gives an account of the rebel cotton loan. A man who held some Confederate contracts applied to M. Carteret, who had organized the omnibus system in Paris, and urged him to go into a speculation with him, that might benefit at once the Confederacy and themselves. Carteret suggested M. Erlanger, a young banker, as the best man for their purpose, and suggested a cotton loan, which Erlanger and the agent adopted, but failed to give Carteret any of the benefits of the suggestion.

Erlanger displayed great skill and energy in his management of the matter in its earlier stages. He sent several agents by different routes to Richmond, fortified by Mr. Slidell's recommendation, and furnished with drafts of the terms on which the proposed loan was to be given to him and his associates, and negotiated with the public. Some of the messengers went by the blockade, others through the North. The proposition of M. Erlanger & Co. was submitted by these agents to the confederate authorities at Richmond, and after some modifications was sent into the Confederate Congress for its sanction. Some discussion took place in secret session in regard to it, and some diversity of opinion prevailed, but it was finally indorsed, and the agents came back to have it carried out. The loan [illegible] shortly afterward, and proved at first a success. The contract was all to the advantage of the banker and his associates. They obtained the loan at 74, with power to issue the stock at 90, in the foreign market; and obtained, besides, a commission on the gross sum of one and a half per cent, for introducing and manipulating it. They had, besides, the privilege conceded them of waiving the execution of the contract, if within three months' time from the arrival of the proposition in Europe the banker found he could not place it. That such remarkable advantages were given, may be accounted for by the fact that it was legislated upon by a Congress blindfold and ignorant on such matters, and negotiated by a Commissioner who was more favorably known in the fields of diplomacy than of finance.

The nominal sum to be raised was £3,000,000 sterling, but of this sum either a third or fourth part was reserved by the Confederate Government for its own use. When it is further seen what opportunities the European bankers had of manipulating the loan over which they had such absolute control, and of "bulling" or "bearing" the stock, it can easily be understood how dear the Confederate States and people had to pay for their whistle. Still, when the loan was first launched, it seemed a great success, financially and politically. It was announced in the London Times, and other papers, that 15,000,000 had been subscribed for instead of 3,000,000, and the stock was quoted at from 2 to 3 premium. It was issued at 90, the bankers making their [illegible] at once, and the subscriptions in England are bona fides, and very large—though very little, indeed, was ever taken in France.

Contrary to the prevailing impression, and [illegible] to the [illegible] published under authority of the Washington State Department, the subscription had little political significance, and the names of no prominent members [illegible] figured then or afterwards on the lists. Neither Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Gregory, Mr. Roebuck, nor any of the prominent sympathizers of the South in Parliament ever owned a dollar of that stock—the published lists to the contrary notwithstanding. The largest holder was Sir Henry de Haughton, one of the richest baronets in England, and descended from one of the oldest families. From the commencement to the close of the controversy, he ardently espoused the Southern side, and subscribed £200,000 for the loan. [illegible] drawing and payment of interest he re-in[illegible] so that at the close he probably held [illegible] of the entire loan—his great fortune enabling him to sustain a loss suffi[illegible]

[illegible] on, merchants and [illegible] of £10 or £5, [illegible] a great swarm of cotton speculators [illegible] of the cott[illegible] it plays [illegible] was a gigantic and [illegible] job, of which [illegible] escaped the [illegible] and the Confederates only got [illegible] remainder.

The [illegible] it [illegible] to the English [illegible] or was supposed [illegible] of Southern action. It soon became a gambling stock, and its fluctuations were wonderfully rapid, varying with each [illegible] news, and sometimes within the [illegible] of a week rising or falling 12 per cent. [illegible] Erlanger, at this time, had neither the [illegible] nor the connection necessary to put the loan on the market. He merely exploited it; and through the agency of two powerful [illegible] after obtaining the contract [illegible] in floating it. These were the houses of Schroder & Co., of London, and Fraser, Trenholm & Co., of Liverpool, who took the matter in hand and did it—the originators of the project giving a slice only of their enormous concessions of $2,500,000 as a bonus, and taking neither risk nor responsibility.

The loan has first [illegible] commanded a pr[illegible] of two or [illegible] per cent., but it soon fell [illegible] it continued for some time, [illegible] with occasional fluctuations, as the [illegible] cause brightened or darkened [illegible] among the ruins and ru[illegible] of the lost Confederacy.

It was probably for a long time the most speculative [illegible] on the London Stock Exchange.

[illegible] the [illegible] of the Confederacy there was no one either in Europe or America empowered to investigate such matters, and several propositions which were made by [illegible] in Europe to appoint a board from their number to receive the reports of all disbursing agents so as to wind up all Confederate affairs in order, failed to be [illegible] out.

The very few persons who knew anything about this subject kept their own counsel, and, as they are outside the reach of questioning, will probably preserve the same discreet silence to the end. As the Confederate loan was born in mystery, so did it live and die, and where its remains were deposited is utterly unknown.

[illegible] as it [illegible] it still preserves a small nominal value, and orders for its purchase are frequently [illegible] even now. A committee of bondholders, comprising a number of influential and respectable Englishmen, hold regular [illegible] ons, and have obtained legal opinions from eminent jurists as to the lien which attaches to the relics of Confederate property [illegible] bonds, issued as they were by a [illegible] as a belligerent both by the Northern and European Governments. And there are sensible business men in London, to-day, who believe that, at some [illegible] time, that stock will represent value [illegible] as it stands on a totally different basis from any other Confederate obligation issued during the war. So, of all the creations of the Confederacy, the last spark yet left glimmering is to be found in these Confederate cotton bonds.

The argument briefly, is this: While the Richmond Government had possession of the cotton in the South, and the control of Southern resources, it pledged them for the payment of these bonds, which are in the hands of bona fide holders, unconnected with the Confederacy, and therefore, unaffected by any action of Congress. They simply made a contract, for the fulfillment of which Confederate cotton and property, into whatever hands they have passed, are responsible. The Washington Government takes that property subject to that lien. Such is the argument of the bondholders, and the bonds in England are regarded by many persons as a good offset to the Alabama claims, which point when those claims are adjudicated or submitted to arbitration, will probably be pressed. With regard to the original value of these bonds, no two opinions were entertained by the majority of English business men. The only distrust ever excited was through the attacks made on Southern credit by Robert J. Walker, who, as a secret agent of the Washington Government, indefatigably employed his pen and tongue for the double purpose of breaking down Confederate, and raising Federal, credit in Europe, for the latter's bonds fell twenty per cent below those of the former when he commenced his labors. Harping strongly on the string of Mississippi repudiation with which he sought to identify President Davis, Mr. Walker strewed his pamphlets "thick as the leaves in Vallambrosa," and did produce more effect than any other agent abroad. He not only attempted to spike the rebel guns, but to inspire faith in Northern securities, and it is but just to him to say that he succeeded in this work. The restoration of confidence in those securities abroad, especially in Germany, was, in my judgment, more due to his indefatigable efforts and plausible explanations than to any other cause, and the "sinews of war" were supplied from those sources, without which the strong right arm of the North would have been stiffened, if not paralyzed.

Federal credit abroad may be said to have dated its revival from the time of his secret mission, and Mr. Chase showed his judgment in the selection of his predecessor in the Treasury, for the very fact of having previously filled that post gave weight and authority to his statements.

When the Empress Eugenie inquired of the Prefect of Paris why he made the boulevards so long and straight and tiresome, he replied that it was because generals of artillery had found it impossible to teach cannon balls to turn a corner.

NO REMEDY IN THE WORLD ever came into such universal use or has so fully won the confidence of mankind, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

BRACING AND BRACING.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

H. W. SHIPLEY & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS OF
SHIPLEY'S PATENT PACIFIC
TURBINE WATER WHEEL!

OF WHICH THE ABOVE IS AN ILLUSTRATION, has FOUR SETS OF BUCKETS, AND USES THREE-FOURTHS OF THE WATER TWICE.

The old high priced, unequalled and unrivalled wheel has been played out by a fair working trial made by Mr. H. Kelly, at his saw mill, and the public can see what he says as to the capacity of the two wheels in the following testimonial over his own signature:

MR. H. W. SHIPLEY. Sir: In reply to your inquiry as to how I like you Pacific Turbine Wheel, I have to say that I have used one over shot and three Leffel wheels—10, 13 and 15 inch diameters. When I substituted your 15 inch wheel for the 13 inch Leffell wheel, though unfinished, it worked the machinery like a top, using 52 ft of water per minute more than the 13 inch Leffell. At your request I subsequently took your wheel out that it might be finished, and then I put in a 15 inch Leffel; but it gave no better power than yours while it used 52 cubic feet more water, per minute. After some months, I replaced your wheel and am still using it with the most satisfactory results. I have subjected it to some severe tests. For instance, while running the circular saw in a log which squared 15 inches, I added the planer with a 9 inch knife, cutting from one eighth to one-fourth of an inch depth, without in the least slacking the speed. After thorough tests of both wheels, I am satisfied that your wheel with gates one-eighth of an inch open gives as much power as the Leffel with gates one third open. At half gate, your wheel gives double the power of the Leffel at half gate. At full gate, the power of yours exceeds that of the Leffel, by from ten to twelve per cent. At quarter gate, the Leffel holds no comparison with yours at quarter gate.

N. B. Mr. Shipley was not present at either of the trials of his wheel, he being sick at the first, and absent from the State, at the second trial.

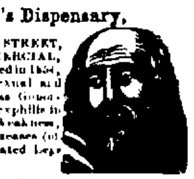
Medical.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, put lishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

PATENTS.—Attention given to filing Caveats and applications for Letters Patent. A gentleman at Washington, D. C., of 20 years experience in this business, is associated with me and gives this branch his sole attention.

BOUNTY.—Act July 28, 1866, soldiers entering the service between April 19, 1861, and July 19, 1864, for two or three years are entitled to bounty. Widows and Heirs of soldiers are entitled. Sailors and Marines who entered after July 1, 1864, are entitled to $100 for each year of service. Seamen are entitled to three months' pay if they entered the service between Feb. 24, 1864, and July 1, 1864. Colored soldiers are entitled same as white.

PENSION.—Soldiers and Sailors disabled, or who have lost any of their limbs, are entitled to pension. Those who lost limbs are entitled to additional sums from $7 to $17 per month, according to condition. Widows are entitled to $2 per month extra for each child under 16 years of age.

COMMUTATION OF TRAVEL.—California and Nevada Volunteers discharged in Arizona, New Mexico or Utah, and at points distant from the place of enlistment, are entitled to actual cost of transportation, less the amount paid at the time of discharge.

THREE MONTHS' PAY PROPER.—Volunteer Officers who were in the service March 3, 1865, and were honorably discharged after April 9, 1865, are entitled to three months' pay proper.

LOST HORSES.—Cavalry Soldiers who entered the service prior to June 20, 1864, and owned the horses and equipments they used are entitled to 40 cents per day for the period of service, and to pay for equipments lost and each horse killed in battle or lost without fault of soldier.

COMMUTATION OF RATIONS.—Soldiers, Sailors and Marines who were prisoners of war during the Rebellion are entitled to commutation of rations at cost prices during the period of their imprisonment.

SERVANTS OF ARMY OFFICERS.—The allowance for servants of all officers who were in the service at any time between May 1, 1864, and March 3, 1865, is equal to the pay of a private soldier during the time for each servant allowed and employed. As only $11 per month was allowed for the intervening ten months instead of $16 authorized, every officer is entitled to $50 additional for each servant so employed.

BOUNTY LAND WARRANTS.—All officers, soldiers, sailors, marines, their widows, former widows or children, who were actually engaged in battle in any war between 1790 and March 3, 1855, are entitled to a Land Warrant of 160 acres, if they have received less than that amount they are entitled to the balance to make 160 acres.

DR. J. C. YOUNG;
Medical and Surgical
INSTITUTE.

* CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE.*
* CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.*
* IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.*

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble, to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS

That is sapping with insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

READ! READ!

I am aware that by dwelling upon a subject as the decay of manly vigor that vital principle of life, the ignorant may tive; but the desire to point out to those who guish and decay, the true [illegible] of [illegible] great an incentive to be [illegible] into [illegible] tended the terrible disease of Seminal [illegible] one but the practical specialist who [illegible] treatment has [illegible] but its [illegible] the most inexperienced by noting the [illegible] toms.
